Biology B3 4.3	Air pollution
Answers to in-text questions a Oil, coal, natural gas.
b Sulfur dioxide and nitrogen oxides.
c The acid kills the leaves, so the trees cannot make food. If it soaks into the soil, it can kill the roots.
Summary answers
1 fossil, carbon dioxide, sulfur, nitrogen oxides, sulfuric, nitric, acid rain
2 a i Sulfur dioxide, carbon dioxide and nitrogen oxides are produced from impurities when fossil fuels are burned. These cause air pollution.
ii Sulfur dioxide and nitrogen oxides in the air dissolve in the rain and fall to the ground. The water runs into streams, rivers, etc. and lowers the pH, making them more acidic.
iii Acid rain falls on the ground, soaks in and causes it to be acidic.
b The sulfur dioxide and nitrogen oxides produced by burning fossil fuels are carried high in the air by the prevailing winds. They can be blown hundreds of miles before they dissolve in rain and are carried to the ground. So every country needs to control emissions from the burning of fossil fuels to prevent any country being affected by acid rain.
3 a Global dimming is the reduction in light reaching the surface of the Earth because light is reflected away by the build up of pollution particles in the air (from sulphur compounds and smoke particles).
b $\frac{14}{18} \times 100 = 78\%$
c Europe has controlled air pollution as seen by reduction in sulfur emissions; smoke will be controlled at the same time; this reduces the number of particles in the air reflecting the light and so reverses dimming effect of air pollution.
